

Transportation Investments for the Regional Transportation Plan (RTP) and Next Gen Study

Project Purpose

The combined El Dorado County Transportation Commission (EDCTC) Regional Transportation Plan (RTP) and Next Generation Transportation Investments Strategy (Nex Gen Strategy) will guide the future development of a safe, efficient, and sustainable transportation system for El Dorado County. The RTP outlines short and long-range transportation priorities between 2025-2045, addressing regional growth, associated mobility needs, and environmental considerations. Complementing this effort, the Next Gen Strategy focuses specifically on evaluating proposed transportation projects and funding opportunities to develop and enhance funding strategies. Together, these plans aim to enhance the economy and foster a more connected, accessible, transportation future for the region.

Project Goals

Reflect the community's priorities

Build public support

Coordinate regional transportation efforts to advance multi-jurisdictional projects

Strengthen opportunities to obtain State and Federal funding for project delivery

Investment Study Questionnaire and Community Pop Ups!

A community survey was launched from May 17 - June 17 2024: 448 responses
 Community Pop Ups Included: Cameron Park Springfest and Placerville Farmers Market

Faced with the contradiction between the increasing traffic volume and the aging road infrastructures throughout El Dorado County, it was not surprising that over 72% of respondents ranked maintaining and road repairs, including repaving roads and fixing potholes, as a top priority for investment.
